A NY MAN WHO PROFESSES TO UNDERSTAND all trades and sciences, assumes to impose an absurdity upon the public. On the same principle, any medicine which professes to cure all diseases, is unworthy the slightest confidence, and should at once be denounced as quack mostrum. The Grafenberg Family Medicines do not sume to cure all diseases with one remedy. They have eleven different medicines, each adapted to its peculiar disease; and time has proved, beyond a question, the efficacy and certainty of these preparations. FOREIGN NEWS!

By the arrival on Thursday last of the ship Argo, Capt. Ballard, in 14 days from San Francisco, we are in possession of later news from the East, viz.: from San Francisco to 2d April, from New Orleans to 12th March, New York to 7th March, Europe via Liverpool to 26th February.

We make the following extracts: United States. The President appointed, March 9th, Joseph Holt, the present Commissioner of Patents, as Postmaster General in place of Governor Brown, deceased. The Senate immediately confirmed the appointment, and Mr. Holt will enter upon the duties of his new office, and take a seat in the Cabinet at

The Senate has confirmed all the treaties recently negotiated with the Oregon and Washington

Mr. Denver has resigned as Indian Commissioner in California.

The deficit in the finances of the Postoffice Department to meet the contracts and necessary service, will amount to $6,000,000 by the 30th June

As an appropriation is absolutely necessary to carry on the operations of the Department, it is understood the President has decided on calling an extra session

G. W. Gholsom, of Mississippi, has been apsointed Governor of Washington Territory. The Cass-Herron Treaty with New Granada was so amended by the Senate, in extra session, that those who have not presented their claims against that Government may do so at any time before New Granada takes final action upon the treaty. Gen. Herron is now in Washington, and asks that our Government will in return make provision for the settlement of all questions in which New Granada or her citizens are claimants. Among other questions submitted by Gen. Herron, are those in relation to the transit of mail matter across the Isthmus and the tonnage tax. A dispatch, received at Detroit, Michigan, Mar. s, from Adrian, announces that the remains of Ira J. Thurston, the celebrated aronaut, whose disappearance last fall, with his partially inflated balloon, created so much interest, have been found. His remains were found about ten miles west of Toledo and recognised, although nearly six months have elapsed since his disappearance. Assassination of P. Barton Key.

Washington, Feb. 57, 1859. The community was thrown into an intense excitement to-day by the killing of Philip Barton | the Continent are of a more warlike aspect. Key, United States District Attorney for the District of Columbia, at the hands of Daniel E. Sickles. According to report, becoming convinced of the truth of certain scandalous rumours involv ing his wife, he resolved to redress his wrongs. At about 2 o'clock this afternoon, proceeding from his residence near the President's house to the southeast corner of La Fayette Square, in the same neighborhood where Mr. Kev was engaged in conversation with Mr. Butterworth of New York, he charged Mr. Key with having dishonored him him and destroyed his domestic peace, and shot him with a revolver.

France. whole army of Lyons has been placed on a war footing, and that its equipages de compagne have been ordered to be got in readiness without delay. A commission has been appointed to report on the possibility of constructing a port at the Island of Reunion, which affords no protection to shipping except in a bay, which is dangerous in bad weather. It is proposed to expend 1,500,000f on the construction of a port. M. Marchessaux, Chirurgien-Major in the French military service, has been dispatched to Nice, in it, a central military hospital might be establish-

On February 15th the expose des motifs of a senatus consulte was read to the Senate, having for its object to increase from 1,500,000 francs to 2,300,-000 francs the annual dotation of the Princes and Princesses of the Imperial family, to allow Prince Napoleon the sum of 80,000 francs for his marriage expenses and cost of establishment, and to fix the jointure of the Princess Clotilde.

France and Austria.

The French Government is preparing a memorandum of grievances against Austria. France will frankly demand explanations of Austria as to the course she intends to pursue in relation to the subjects to which the memorandum The Austrian journals have been ordered to assume a more moderate tone in their articles in relation to France. Austria has proposed to the secondary German powers treaties of alliance, offensive and defen-

Three of these minor powers have concluded secret treaties with Austria, but with the qualifying clause that these treaties are only to be acted on by them, in case war be carried to a different theatre than Italy. It is reported that the Prussian Government are contemplating the negotiation of a new loan. Sardinia is enrolling two regiments of deserters from the Austrian army, and it is believed a large | the great American rivers. number more may be obtained by desertion from the Austrian ranks.

It is asserted, on what appears to be good authority, that the Emperor Napoleon's intentions are decidedly warlike. The French letters from Vienna, published in the papers, are full of accounts of the warlike preparations made on the Continent. In striking contrast with the warlike preparations on the Continent, the English army estimates show a reduction in the home and colonial forces of and in the Canton river, the swift and secure steamer, 8,000 men, and an increase in the Indian army of 14,000 men.

The total force of the present standing army of England is 220,000 men, of which number 108,000 are for the India service. This is considered as strongly indicating the faith of the English Government in the maintenance of peace.

Somerset at Chuppra, and again at Burrod, in the Kotah territory. Later intelligence showed that the rebels were moving in the direction of Tonk and Sewpore, and Brigadier Showers, with a column from Agra, after marching 94 miles in three days, came up with them at Dewsha, defeated and dispersed them, killing about 300. January 27th. We regret to learn that Mr. O. E. Roberts, ex-Vice-Consul of the United States, was, January 26th, assaulted in Queen's Road by Captain J. B. Soule, of the American ship Uncle Toby. The The Herald's Paris correspondent states that the assailant was armed only with a stick, and no damage of consequence was done to either of the parties; the Consul defending himself with an umorella, which turned out to be a sufficient defence against the evil intentisns of the renowned Capt. Soule. The cause of this disgraceful attack was the publication of the atrocious brutalities perpetrated on the crew of the Uncle Toby on her voy-

> There is the usual record of attacks by pirates on vessels, and their pumshment by the English. From South America. Our South American news is by no means full. The principal intelligence is from Chile, which country is in a state of revolution. It is to the following effect : Through the politeness of B. F. Snow, Esq., of Honolulu, we have received the following circular of Russell & Co., Shanghae, which we copy: SHANGHAE, 4th January, 1859. DEAR SIRS:-Lord Elgin returned from his excurion up the Yang-tsze-kiang on the 1st instant. The expedition ascended the great river as far as Wu-chung, and Han-kow, about 650 miles above this port. These important towns, one a provincial capital, the other the center of the internal trade of this empire and the great market for imported goods, lie opposite each other; and H. B. M.'s ship Furious drawing over 15 feet of water, anchored between them. We have been unable to obtain a complete account of the expedition, but the following appear to be the chief conclusions it affords, namely—

1st. That, while it is possible for large vessels to ascend the river, the navigation is so difficult and dangerous, that merchant-ships could not safely attempt it even as far as Chin-kinng; while higher up the current is too strong for sailing vessels. It must therefore be left practically to light draft steamers, like those on 2d. That the people are friendly to foreigners, and will eagerly engage in business with them; but that those resident near the banks of the river have latterly suffered so much from the rebels (who have thrice taken Wu-chang, since 1853) that they are not in the best condition for commerce. The junk trade on the river being, however, almost entirely destroyed by the civil war, the field for foreign vessels is clear, and only needs to be opened and protected, to afford them a considerable traffic in goods and passengers. For the Chinese will undoubtedly prefer here, as on the coast, to the clumsy, slow, and unsafe junk. 3d. That conl of fair quality, but bituminous and anthracite, is obtainable at Han-kow and elsewhere on . the river, though not immediately in large quantities, or at low prices. But the indications seen of large natural deposits make it probable that, in the course of time, steamers could be amply supplied.

4th. That the insurgents now occupying Nanking and various other points on the river, are degenerate and unlikely long to maintain their ground against the Various rumors prevail in relation to contemporate and the second of the contemporated ministerial changes in the English Cabinet, Imperial forces. While they do so, however, they must interfere with the actual opening of the river to trade; for the new Treaties expressly, and, we think, wisely, provide that they must be extinguished before foreigners can be permitted to move freely on the river. And although the English ships severely chastised those insurgent towns and batteries which attempted to oppose their progress, and obtained from the insurgent leaders an humble apology, and an engagement to respect the British flag in future, it is hardly to be doubted that the Imperial government will insist on the strict observance of the Treaty stipulation alluded to.

5th. That whatever the river traffic may become, it must tend to increase, not to impair, the importance of Shanghae as a sea-port and depot; and that its effect in extending the operations of the native merchants with this port; in aiding their access to it; and in securing the safe and rapid transit of their merchandise between it and the inner markets, must be much more
